

Individual Support (Ageing) (Home and Community)

About the course

This CHC33015 Certificate III in Individual Support (Ageing) (Home and Community) is a nationally recognised training qualification designed to provide students with the skills and knowledge to gain employment in home and community services. It is the entry qualification for personal care work in aged and community personal support services.

During the course students will develop the skills and knowledge to work one-on-one with clients to maximise and maintain independence and well-being. Training and assessment will ensure learners are able to work legally and ethically with a diverse range of people within the scope of practice for a support worker. Applying a holistic care approach and working healthily and safely in a direct care environment are key focuses throughout training and assessment of the qualification.

Entry requirements

There are no formal entry requirements for this course, however students are expected to have or be able to achieve written and spoken English skills to the certificate level of the course, or the ability to develop these skills whilst in training to meet the requirements of the qualification.

To allow our trainers to support your learning, students will need to complete a student profile, including language, literacy and numeracy indicators before their enrolment application is accepted.

Students will need to be able to achieve a clear police check and meet relevant state-based requirements for working with children or vulnerable people.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) and Credit Transfer

RPL is a process that assesses your competency—acquired through formal and informal learning—to determine if you meet the requirements for a unit of study. Students with previous skills, knowledge or experience are entitled to apply for RPL for a full qualification or individual units of competency. Students will be required to produce evidence and undertake assessment as part of the RPL process.

If you have previously completed a unit/s of competency and can provide valid evidence of AQF certification (issued by an RTO), you are eligible to apply for a Credit Transfer and would not be required to undertake further study for the unit.

You can learn more about RPL and Credit Transfer processes at: www.maxsolutions.com.au/training

Funding available

Students may be eligible for funding for this qualification via various State-based initiatives, including Skills Assure State Funded training in Queensland.
